

Inside Look[®]

Increase your applicant's health awareness through online lab results.

Applicants First

At ExamOne we believe that when you provide applicants with choices, they stay engaged in the process and are more likely to stick with the important decision that they made to protect their family. Inside Look provides your applicants with another important choice — to learn more about their health status.

How Does It Work?

The applicant receives a notification when results are available, reducing follow up calls and the administrative burden of copying and mailing a paper result.

More Choices

As individuals, we have different preferences when it comes to viewing information. We designed the web site with that in mind. The applicant can view the results graphically or as a simple list. They can manage their profile information, save as a PDF, print results and share them with their personal physician.

Online Lab Result Advantage

Today, more than ever, concerns about growing healthcare costs are influencing people to lead healthier lifestyles.

With this intensified motivation for better health in mind, we have a service that will increase your applicant's awareness of his or her current health status.

Inside Look gives you the opportunity to strengthen relations with your client and provide a value added benefit to the agent and policyholders.
